

Tardigrade

170 10 9

Chapter 1 by Andrew Hartmann

This is an adventure about a Tardigrade. If you don't know what a tardigrade is, it is a microscopic creature that can survive 10 years without food or water, 300 degrees F, and -400 degrees F. They can also withstand 1000 times as much radioactivity than the lethal dose to humans. They can also survive space! They survive by making a glass like shell around themselves.

But this story, is about a Tardigrade, that is the size of dog. It starts off with the unnatural creature walking through a town...

Chapter 2 by Brock Thompson

Now, this hideous creature was just minding its own business walking down main street when he happened to be spotted by a couple citizens.

Chapter 3 by PigletPinkPancake

"Oh my gosh what is that foul beast!" Screamed one of the people

"IT'S A MONSTER! RUN FOR YOUR LIFE!" And everyone started to panic.

Chapter 4 by Spyro

Jason called the police, he saw that "beast" he was afraid, but he saw that this beast wasn't doing anything.

STRANGE.

When the police arrived they were wearing some big protecting clothes, and then, when they wanted to kill it, Jason stopped them. He remembered that in school they've learned about tardigrades.

Chapter 5 by Grufkork

"Hey, wait!" he said. "I don't think it will harm us!" The tardigrade scuttled to him. It seemed like it liked him. The police went away, and Jason took it home. He named the tardigrade Dave. But Jason soon had a problem. He could not find any information about what giant tardigrades ate. However, they would soon have even bigger problems. A team of scientists had heard of Dave, and really wanted the extraordinary tardigrade. They called Jason and offered him lots of money for Dave, but he did not want to sell it. After lots of intense arguing, to Jason's relief, they hung up. Jason thought it was over, but the scientists would not give up that easily.

Chapter 6 by יובל דותן בן זאב

It was in the evening, and me and Dave watch TV.

suddenly I heard a noise from the yard, and the door was broken and fell to the floor.

In the entry I saw 5 scientists wearing some big protecting clothes and protecting masks. The scientists started to shoot in Dave, but the cuticle protected him. Dave was in aquarium, and the shots made holes in the aquarium. suddenly Dave ran out and broke the glass. he scratch the scientists with his claws and spit on them acid. the scientists ran away and we not saw them again.

after I fixed Dave's aquarium I saw that he threw five eggs.

Dave is actually a girl?

Chapter 7 by Zorlex

Jason was shocked. He guessed Dave was now a girl. Or Dave. Maybe Girl-Dave? But he would have to leave the huge pond.

Jason had to figure out what to do about those determined scientists and how to stop them from taking away Dave. Jason had grown attached to the little gu- girl and he wasn't about to let scientists take away his buddy, no matter what.

But first thing first: dealing with a fa- mother and hi- her eggs. Dave (now Dane?) had curled hi- herself around the pile of tardigrade eggs that were piled in the aquarium. Jason didn't know a single thing about how to help Dane with the hatching or what type of food the newborns might need. He chewed his lip with worry. Being only 12 years old and living on his own while his parents were traveling the world on their year long anniversary they had every year, he'd grown accustomed to getting things done on his own. But helping a tardigrade mother that seemed to have no issues with the lack of food, through hatching baby tardigrade's? It was totally out of his league.

Chewing on his bottom lip, Jason glanced at the wallphone hanging above the kitchen counter. Maybe he should ask Arnold what he should do next. After all, his best friend had been nagging Jason for a while on seeing Dane for a while now, ever since Jason had told him about her a week ago.

Jason hopped up onto a stool, unhooked the phone, and dialed.

Chapter 8 by DANDAN THE DANDAN ~ anyone still remember me?

"Hey Arnold! Do you mind if I ask you what a giant female Tardigrade and her unborn babies eat?"

"WHAAT?!!!"

And 5 minutes later, he came to Jason's house with an answer.

Hot dogs...

"You sure about this?"

"Yeah. After all, what could possibly harm them?"

"Hey! I think it's hatching!" Jason exclaimed. "Quick! Get the..."

"Got it!" He screamed out with his camera pointing at the eggs.

As the 2 boys and the weird looking super creature looking at the 5 eggs, they are full of anticipation!

The first one hatched. It was as ugly as it's mother.

Then another one.

And another.

And one more.

As the last one hatched, one of the scientist came back with guns blazing.

"AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA!!!!!! "

The scientist screamed as he shot everything in sight. And apparently, he was a terrible shooter. He shot everything except the 2 boys, the Tardigrade mother, and the aquarium...

Wow...

Dave then screamed and run towards the scientist.

Let's just say, that Dave's diet, is evil scientists...

And they all lived happily ever after!
